What is CeNTech ?

CeNTech was opened as one of Germany's first centers for nanotechnology in June 2003. Integrated into the densest network of universities in all over Europe in the German state of North Rhine-Westfalia (NRW), CeNTech provides the ideal environment for performing top interdisciplinary research and direct selected ideas and results of nano-technological research into technical applications.

This is the second CeNTech Day which focuses on selected recent results from leading international laboratories in Nanoscience.

We wish to welcome all of you!
